Notes

(1) Core Courses (Type 'T')

Core courses are coded (T) as the main course, which provide content and scope in any specialized area or in the major area of interest. Students are required to take and pass these courses.

Research Methodology and Statistics Courses and Specialization/Major Courses.

(2) Cognate/Elective Courses (Type 'E')

These courses are coded (E) which will contribute to the academic or professional development of the candidate with respect to the particular need in the area of specialization. It supports the core courses in providing more depth to expand area of specialization, thus allowing more opportunity for the candidate to extend and intensify one's knowledge and expertise in the area of specialization.

Courses selected from other education specialization areas, namely doctoral courses at the 700 and 800 levels offered by the School of Educational Studies \(other than the 10 Core Courses selected\) and/or doctoral courses offered by the schools in USM.

(3) Course Registration
